1. Warranty Period and Coverage

This Contractual Warranty is provided by Schneider Electric and covers defects in workmanship and materials in your Product. This warranty period commences ninety (90) days from the date of the Schneider Electric commercial invoice or from the date the Product is installed, whichever is first, and expires on the same date either (a) three (3) years later or (b) if you properly registered your Product as specified above, five (5) years later, unless otherwise agreed in writing (the "Warranty Period"). This Contractual Warranty, with prior written notice, is transferable to subsequent owners but only for the unexpired portion of the Warranty Period.

This Contractual Warranty does not cover and Schneider Electric is not responsible for labor costs arising from or expenses related to the removal of defective Product(s) and the installation of replacement Product(s).

2. Warranty Claims

If your Product becomes defective and you notify Schneider Electric of such defect within the Warranty Period, Schneider Electric will, at its sole discretion, either (i) repair the defective Product or (ii) replace with new, reconditioned parts or similar parts of equivalent depreciated value, provided that Schneider Electric through inspection establishes the existence of such a defect which is covered by this Contractual Warranty. If Schneider Electric elects to perform any onsite warranty services, Schneider Electric requires a site escort (arranged and paid for by you) for all such warranty services. Accordingly, if Schneider Electric elects to perform such on-site warranty servicing, you will need to provide Schneider Electric with the relevant contact information for your site escort for scheduling purposes. Alternatively, Schneider Electric may elect, at its sole discretion, provide you with cash compensation equal to the Product's value depreciated by the number of years of operation under the Warranty Period.

If Schneider Electric repairs or replaces a Product, its warranty continues for the remaining portion of the original Warranty Period or ninety (90) days from the date of the repair or return shipment to the customer whichever is greater. All replaced Products and all parts removed from repaired Products become the property of Schneider Electric.

4. Warranty Return and Repair Process

Contact Schneider Electric Customer Service representative with brief description of the error to evaluate and troubleshoot the issue while the Product is in the field, as many problems can be solved with remote guidance.

Please contact your local Schneider Electric Customer Service Center or visit our website at:

<http://www.schneider-electric.com/sites/corporate/en/support/operations/local-operations/local-operations.page>

When you contact Schneider Electric to obtain service, please have your Owner's Manual ready for reference and be prepared to supply:

- The serial number and part number of your Product
- A copy of your dated Schneider Electric commercial invoice
- Information about the installation and commissioning or inspection certificate

- Information about the failure

Schneider Electric reserves the right to refuse exchange requests for lack of proper documentation and information.

i. Return Material Authorization (RMA)

After attempts to correct the problem remotely with customer's assistance and if the Product must be returned to Schneider Electric or designated service partner for replacement or repair, the customer must obtain a Return Material Authorization (RMA) number and the correct return center "Ship to" address. Product shipments will be refused and returned at your expense if they are unauthorized or returned without an RMA number.

ii. Once an RMA has been issued for exchange

Schneider Electric, at its sole discretion, will ship an equivalent replacement Product to the specified customer. The allegedly defective Product must be returned to Schneider Electric in the same transport packaging that the replacement product was provided in. Schneider Electric will supply all labels and documentation for the return of the defective Product. The defective Product must be shipped back to Schneider Electric within ten (10) working days after receiving the replacement Product. If we do not receive the Product within this timeframe, the product cost will be billed back to the customer (including shipping and handling fees).

Standard ground shipping costs are covered by Schneider Electric both ways. Any expedited shipping costs will be the responsibility of the customer and billed accordingly.

Visually evident damage caused by shipping or mishandling is to be reported to the freight carrier within twenty-four (24) hours. Shipping damage is the responsibility of the freight carrier, not Schneider Electric and should always be duly noted with the freight carrier prior to accepting and signing for the Product.

5. Out-of-Warranty Service

If the Warranty Period for your Product has expired, if the Product was damaged by misuse or incorrect installation, if other conditions of the warranty have not been met, or if no dated proof of purchase is available, your Product may be serviced or replaced for a fee, as determined by Schneider Electric at its sole discretion.

Contact Schneider Electric Customer Service Representative according to "Warranty Return and Repair Process" above to determine if out of warranty service is available for your Product.

Payment options such as credit card or money order will be explained by the Customer Service Representative. In cases where the minimum flat fee does not apply, as with incomplete products or products with excessive damage, an additional fee will be charged. If applicable, you will be contacted by Customer Service once your product has been received.

6. Invalid Warranty Claim

If the allegedly defective Product that is returned to Schneider Electric (or service partner) pursuant to this Warranty Statement is found by Schneider Electric to be free of defects, Schneider Electric will charge a flat-rate inspection charge for each Product of €235 EURO, plus shipping and packaging costs. In the event that Schneider Electric ships a replacement Product to customer before its inspection and thereafter determines the alleged defective Product to be defect free based on its inspection, Schneider Electric will (i) return the defect free Product to the customer and (ii) charge the customer for the replacement Product.
